By TOM OCHILTREE
Associated Press Writer

LONDON (AP)—A raging fire forced 1,016 persons to abandon the Christmas cruise ship Lakonia in the Atlantic today. A massive air-sea rescue operation plucked hundreds from the ocean and more were being saved hourly. A U.S. Air Force report said about 100 persons were floating in the water and all appeared dead.

Aboard the 20,314-ton Greek liner when disaster struck Sunday night were 651 passengers on a holiday, mostly British but including four Americans, and a crew of 365. Reports of the total rescued ranged from 470 to more than 800 but there was a possibility of some duplication.

All but the stern of the ship was ablaze and explosions rocked her 608-foot length when rescue vessels arrived on the scene about 180 miles northwest of Casablanca. The water was dotted with lifeboats and swimmers.

LONDON (AP)—Some 670 survivors were reported rescued today from the Greek cruise liner Lakonia, ablaze off the northwest coast of Africa.

The Christmas cruise ship had 651 holidaying passengers, including four Americans, and a crew of 365 aboard when fire out during the night.

The British liner Stratheden radioed she had picked up about 300 survivors plus some dead. She reported some survivors were injured.

The Argentine liner Rio Grande reported she had rescued some 50 survivors and was standing by the burning ship seeking more.

The Argentine freighter Salta reported 220 survivors aboard and the British tanker Montcalm 100.

The stricken ship was burning in the eastern Atlantic about 180 miles north of the Portuguese island of Madeira and 550 miles west of Cape Verde.

3 Deaths Attributed to Weather

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The deaths of at least three persons were attributed to winter weather in Arkansas Sunday.

The body of Lloyd E. Caples, 35, of Bono, was found Sunday afternoon in his ice-encrusted car, partially submerged in Big Creek, 11 miles southwest of Jonesboro.

Charles Foot, 68, was killed when he lost control of his car on snow-covered state Highway 22 near Fort Chaffee and collided with a butane truck. The truck driver was not hurt.

And Marilyn D. Catlinger, 22, of Dallas, Tex., died when the foreign car her husband, Don B. Catlinger, 24, was driving skidded out of control near Arkadelphia and hit an auto driven by Randall Mathis, 33, of Arkadelphia.

Craighead County Sheriff Lonnie Cooper said Caples' car was found Sunday afternoon by a passerby. He said Caples' car left a bridge crossing the creek and landed upside down in three feet of water 18 feet below.

Arkansas' violent death toll for the week ended at midnight Sunday reached 29.

Sixteen persons died in traffic accidents, four in one accident Thursday at Malvern. Ten persons died in fires, six of those were members of one family who were killed when their farm house was set on fire near Trumann. Three persons died during the week as a result of shootings.

40 Spend 18 Hours Aboard Stuck Bus

MARIANNA, Ark. (AP)—Forty persons spent 18 hours aboard a snowbound bus in east Arkansas before the bus was cleared today and proceeded to Memphis.

State Police said the bus, stranded at 2 p.m. Sunday, had enough gasoline to run the motor and heater all night and keep all passengers comfortable.

The bus was freed just before 8 a.m. today by road graders stuck in snow plows. One grader preceded the bus on U.S. Highway 79, clearing the way.

About 10 cars also were stranded in the same area, State Police said. The drivers stayed in the cars and the bus passengers remained on the bus.

"There was no way to get anyone out there to them," said Jerry Bryan, State Police radio operator at Forrest City. The bus was stranded between Marianna and Hughes, about 40 miles from Memphis in a thinly populated farming area.

No injuries were reported. Bryan said the bus did not skid off the road but became stuck in a snowdrift. There was a foot of snow on the ground and drifts of up to three feet.

The bus left Little Rock Sunday morning. It was not known what time it would arrive in Memphis.

Bryan said the passengers had nothing to eat or drink all night.

Move for Vote on Fgn. Aid Is Beaten Down

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House defeated today a resolution that would have allowed a vote later in the day on the $3-billion compromise foreign-aid appropriation.

The vote on the resolution was 202 to 105, but it needed support of two-thirds of those voting. The count was three votes short of two-thirds.

The defeat put off the showdown vote on the aid bill until Tuesday, when the resolution can be adopted by a simple majority vote.

Adoption of the resolution then would bring the bill up for a House vote.

In today's maneuvering, Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., objected whether there was unanimous consent to take up the resolution.

The question then was one of suspending the rules—which requires a two-thirds vote — and acting on the resolution.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Democratic leaders, bringing their absent members back to work by planes, predicted they would have enough Democrats on hand today to crack Republican opposition and pass the foreign aid bill by Tuesday at the latest.

And that won't be any too soon for President Johnson, his prestige on the line and his Texas holiday delayed.

He and aides were said to have kept the White House telephone lines humming Sunday trying to whip up support for the measure in calls to congressmen.

And at least one charter flight was reported picking up congressmen in Texas, Louisiana and Georgia who had gone home early for Christmas and was speeding them back to the capital. Who was paying for the flight — and perhaps others — wasn't clear. A spokesman denied the White House was paying the bill.

However, because of House rules a final vote on the $3 billion aid appropriations measure was not expected before Christmas Eve.

But even if the House approve the bill with its controversial provision on government credit guarantees for sales to Soviet bloc countries, the Senate still must act.

And the senators, most of them home for the holidays, have no business scheduled all week and are not likely to vote before Friday, at the earliest.

House Democratic leader Carl Albert of Oklahoma served notice that there will be no adjournment until the bill is approved.

Thus no quick adjournment is in sight for the longest session since the 1950 Korean War Congress. And when it comes it will be little more than a formality, for the 1964 edition of the 88th Congress begins Jan. 7.

The crucial issue in the stalemate over the compromise foreign aid appropriation bill is whether to ban government underwriting of private credit accompanying any shipments to Communist countries.

The House included such a ban, but Johnson protested, the Senate refused to include the ban in the bill, and a Senate-House conference committee eliminated it in drafting a compromise measure.

But in a long session that didn't break up until before dawn Saturday, Republicans caught the Democratic majority with its ranks slashed by absenteeism and succeeded in forcing the measure back to the conference committee, insisting that the credit ban be included.

A further compromise was reached. This one states that the President can approve credit for sales to Communist countries if he found it in "the national interest" and reported each deal to Congress within 30 days.

If the Rules Committee sends the measure to the floor today, Continued on Page Two

State Crippled by Snow Up to 15 Inches

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow as deep as 15 inches crippled Arkansas today.

At least three deaths were attributed to the cold snap that sent temperatures below zero in parts of the state.

Highways remained very hazardous all over the state.

A Greyhound Bus was stranded for 16 hours in deep snow on U.S. Highway 79 in East Arkansas. It was freed by road graders today and proceeded to Memphis. All 40 passengers were reported safe.

Other cars were reported stranded. Dozens spun off slippery highways. In some places in East Arkansas, snow drifts were as deep as three feet.

The official temperature at the Fayetteville Weather Bureau station was seven below zero this morning. But at some places in Northwest Arkansas there were readings of 17 below.

No more snow was forecast immediately, but temperatures were expected to remain very low and the snow was expected to remain on the ground.

It will be the first white Christmas for parts of Arkansas in many years. Little Rock's last measurable snow on Christmas Day was in 1926, the Weather Bureau reported.

Forrest City reported 15 inches of snow. The amounts ranged down to 2½ inches at Mountain Home.

Highway deaths due to the weather were reported near Jonesboro, Fort Smith and Arkadelphia. The body of Lloyd E. Caples, 35, of Bono, was found Sunday in his ice-encrusted car which was partially submerged in Big Creek 11 miles southwest of Jonesboro.

Charles Foot, 68, was killed when he lost control of his car near Fort Smith and collided with a truck.

Mrs. Don B. Catlinger, 22, of Dallas, Tex., was killed when the car driven by her husband went out of control near Arkadelphia and hit another car.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock indicated there was little chance the snow would disappear by the holiday, with temperatures remaining well below normal.

Pine Bluff had recorded 12 inches of snow by midnight and was getting more earlier in the day. Little Rock had eight inches, Harrison and Walnut Ridge each six.

Heavier snows fell in north-east Arkansas, the Weather Bureau reported, but it had no official estimates. Memphis had 13 inches at midnight.

Weather reporting stations were jammed with telephone calls Sunday by persons seeking the amount of accumulation, driving conditions and other information.

Arkansans were also concerned over whether the snow was safe to eat because of radioactivity. The state Health Department said it was.

However, Dr. William Bunch Jr., director of the Division of Communicable Disease Control of the department pointed out that eating snow "is not a very sanitary thing at best."

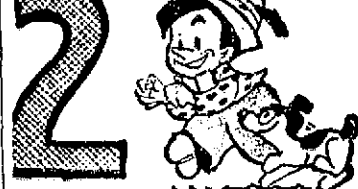

The snow had ended in most of Arkansas by daylight, with only Fayetteville reporting a very light amount still falling.

Forecasts called for continued cold weather with overnight lows from zero to eight degrees. No more snow was predicted.

miles northwest of Casaba-

The disaster touched off a massive sea and air rescue operation to pick up the passengers, all but 18 of them British or Irish, and the Greek and German crew.

The U.S. Air Force said planes circling over the scene reported "about 60 per cent" of the survivors had been picked up.

The Air Force at Wiesbaden, Germany, said three planes of the 57th Air Rescue Squadron, based in the Azores, reported:

"The vessel was on fire everywhere except for the aft portion. Survivors are in lifeboats and on life rafts which have been dropped by U.S. Air Force aircraft."

"Four vessels are in the area and are picking up survivors. About 60 per cent have been picked up so far."

"However, there are many survivors still in the water."

Some reports said the Lakonia, 20,314 tons with a length of 608 feet, was sinking with people struggling in the water around her. But by early afternoon the ship was still afloat, blazing furiously. The water temperature was reported to be 64 degrees — warm enough to give those in the water a chance to survive.

Subsequently the Salta radioed that she was heading for Madeira with survivors. The message was not clear but the British consul at Funchal, on Madeira, understood the Salta had 400 rescued aboard.

Officials of the line believed two babies and 30 to 34 children under 12 were aboard. Some accounts told of mothers tossing children into lifeboats and of parents struggling in the water to keep their children afloat.

The Lakonia's master, Capt. Mathios Zarbis, 53, ranked as one of the Greek line's ablest and most senior officers, a spokesman for the line said.

Berry Takes Credit for Yule Snow

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Maj. Homer Berry of North Little Rock the self-styled rain-maker who had promised central Arkansas children a white rested after two surviving children, Ronald Dever, 9, and Mary, 6, said a man shot their parents and then set fire to the house.

Christmas, took credit Sunday for the white stuff covering the whole state today.

Berry said he put his rain (or snow) making apparatus to work last Wednesday night and would turn it off some time today. Snow would have come to the Ozark Mountains region of Arkansas anyway, he said, but he was responsible for spreading it throughout the state.

Berry claims to produce precipitation by seeking likely-looking clouds with silver iodide sent up from a barrel burning coke at high temperatures. He earned some $8,000 this past summer working for farmers plagued by drought.

The ministers and their wives of the Hope District in the Little Rock Conference of the Methodist Church were entertained Thursday morning, December 19 with a coffee and Christmas party at the district parsonage by Dr. and Mrs. Roy Bagley.

HER PROBLEM IS TWO-LEGGED

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: It looks as if a grown woman 22 year old could solve her own problems but I need help.

My problem didn't exist until just a few weeks ago. The problem came to work in the same place where I work. He is 25 years old, not the best looking person in the world but to me he is just perfect. The way he walks, the car he drives, all seem wonderful to me.

My only contact with him is that he passes my office at least once a day. We've been introduced and that's as far as it goes. I've dated other boys but never flipped like I do over this one. I'm fairly good looking, easy-going and have never been married. He hasn't either. Tell me how to catch my dreamboat. —Miss Flipped

Dear Miss Flipped: Do some sleuthing. Find out by oblique questioning of other office workers where your dreamboat spends his leisure time, who his friends are and what outside interests he has. If he bowls, get one of your dates to take you to the same bowling alley. Instead of bowling, ice-skating or dancing may be his favorite diversion. Whatever or wherever it is, run "accidentally" into him on the arm of another man. Praise him for his excellent performance, ladle on the flattery then disappear over the horizon with the other boy friend.

If you have mutual friends or attend the same church, so much the better, but don't be obvious. He, not you, should be the one to make the advances. Don't spoil the fun by letting him catch you too soon. The harder you are to get the more eager he'll be when you finally reveal that you care too. Love is a game; give and take; question and answer; yes and no. If you play it with skill, your man is yours for life. For ad-fore he was discovered by La Scala of Milan. He made his debut with the Met in 1957.

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. John Coleman Bennett is the new president of Union Theological Seminary.

Dr. Bennett has been dean of the faculty at the 128-year-old institution since 1955.

The 61-year-old theologian, is a minister in the United Church of Christ. He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Henry Pitt Van Dusen.

ditional pointers, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "The Way to a Boy's Heart."

Dear Helen: I know a very needy family; father, mother and seven children. The husband's small salary barely pays for stark necessities. Having lost two children by death, they still owe for hospital and funeral expenses. They're proud people and won't ask for the furniture or clothing they need so badly. If you can help in any way I would be most grateful. The mother is my sister. —Concerned, Farmersburg, Ind.

Dear Concerned: Here is an opportunity for the people of Farmersburg to put the Christmas spirit of giving to practice! Let those who wish to make the Holy Day a happy one for your sister and her family call the "Terre Haute Star" for your name and address. I have sent it to the editor.

Dear Helen: I am planning to be married soon. The problem is who should give me away. I have no parents. When my mother died, her mother took in my sister and me. Our three brothers went to live with my father's mother. Now all are married with the exception of an older brother in the Air Force. Eight years after I went to Grandma's she became ill and was moved to the home of her daughter and son-in-law; the aunt and uncle with whom I've lived these past four years. Should my uncle or oldest married brother give me away? —Quandary

Dear Quandary: Your uncle would be the logical person to give away the bride.

Have you a problem? Perhaps Helen Worden Erskine can help you. Write her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Bobcats Take Their Own Tournament

By CARTER HARDAGE
Hope Star Sports Editor

Hope's Holiday Invitational ended Saturday night with the Bobcats going away with top trophy in their division, and the Lady Cats snaring second in the girls' class.

The Cats really romped and stomped the Kirby Trojans, 78-52, outscoring them in every period. Coach Billy Mitchell stated that he "was very proud" because we got good effort out of every boy.

In the sacking column for the locals were: Dan Jones, high with 18; Reinhardt, 16; Honeycutt, 14; Thrash, 8; Henley and Allen with 6 each; High, 5; Archer, 3; and Johnson, who had 2. Larry Thrash was strong on defense, and we'd like to mention Ronnie Ingram for the fine game he played. These are only a couple of those who played outstandingly Saturday night.

The Lady Cats had a rather rough day of it. They did something unusual for basketball. They played a double header. That can be mean, especially if you consider that basketball is the fastest moving sport.

Earlier in the afternoon, they ousted Spring Hill in the semifinals 39-31. Phyllis Martin paced the Girls to this win with 18. Powell led Spring Hill with 14.

They met the Lady Trojans that night in the finals, but they were just "too pooped to pop," the sack, that is. Shirley Smith was high with 16.

Mrs. Ballard was very high in her praise for Kirby, testifying that "they are one of the best teams that we will have to face this year, and surely the best that we've played so far."

Principal Jack Beaty presented the appropriate trophies after the final game. Bill Reinhardt accepted the Cats first place trophy on behalf of the team, and Judy Owen received the trophy for the Ladies.

Hope won't see court action until next year.

Bears Start Practicing in Earnest

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP)—A week of intense practices and skull sessions—except for a day off at Christmas—began today for the Chicago Bears.

In good shape physically, and being honed mentally by 68-year-old master mind George Halas, the Bears meet the New York Giants in Wrigley Field Sunday for the National Football League title.

The crown has escaped the Bears since 1946 when they defeated the Giants in the Polo Grounds 24-14 behind the quarterbacking of Sid Luckman, now a Bear coach.

The scene at Wrigley Field today was something out of Alice in Wonderland.

It was hamburgers for Halas. It was the fleet of giant, airplane-warming blowers thawing and drying the playing surface.

It was an ear cocked to weather reports, which promised a light warming trend and momentarily no snow after a record-setting sub-zero cold snap.

It was tons of hay ready to be put on the field by an army of $29 per day workers.

It was a wrestling match with the huge tarp, getting a workout space at one end for Halas to exhort his players.

It was arrangement for use of the Chicago Avenue Armory in case snow comes—and being sure that poloists and their ponies, who practice in the indoor arena, are notified in time to make room for the Bears.

It was time to get 12 kerosene-operated blowers ready to pipe warm air under the benches to the players' feet. Six of the machines will operate Sunday at each of the Bears and Giants bench.

It was trainer Ed Rozy looking over the biggest assortment of shoes ever collected in a dressing room.

There are six types of footgear ready for any type of playing surface.

They range from basketball pointed Fortunato Manca, 1941, Italy, 10.

MEXICO CITY—Miguel Paredes, 1174, Mexico, defeated Nabor Gonzales, 1171, Mexico, 7-0. Disqualification.

Trull Posts New Records in Football

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The air was filled with footballs at Miami and Houston, but at Long Beach, Calif., the air was filled with the talk of metatarsals—to be exact the fifth one.

sneakers—the kind the Giants used in the second half on the icy Polo Grounds field in 1931 to score 27 points and whip the Bears 30-13 for the world title—to football shoes with different types of cleats.

While George Mira and Don Trull sent footballs sailing at a record clip Saturday in the first major session of post-season college football activity, Washington suffered a severe jolt to its Rose Bowl hopes when Coffey broke a bone in his left foot during a practice session.

Coach Jim Owens made this short, terse comment on the injury: "He will not play in the Rose Bowl," he said.

The Huskies, who face Big Ten champion Illinois in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day will substitute Charlie Browning for Coffey, who was Washington's leading scorer. It was the third foot fracture suffered by Coffey,

How will Coffey's loss affect the Huskies' chances?

"It's going to hurt them," a team spokesman acknowledged. On the playing field, Mira led the South all-stars to a 23-14 victory over a North team in the Shrine game at Miami, and Trull paced Baylor to a 14-7 decision over LSU in the Bluebonnet Bowl at Houston. And Mississippi State held off North Carolina State 16-12 in the Liberty Bowl at Philadelphia.

The big attractions are still to come, with three games scheduled for Saturday, another set for Dec. 31 and the New Year's Day classics around the corner. Mira completed 27 of 42 passes for 366 yards, each figure a North-South record, as the Dixie stars, overcame a 14-0 North lead and went on to win the 16th Shrine affair. The Miami wizard fired two touchdown passes and a two-point conversion flip.

Trull, who hasn't decided between professional offers from Houston of the American League and Baltimore of the NFL, came up with a clutch performance in the Bluebonnet Bowl. The Baylor ace directed two fourth-quarter scoring drives and capped both with touchdown passes to split end James Ingram for a 14-7 victory over stubborn LSU. Trull pitched 26 strikes in 37 efforts for 255 yards.

Mississippi State scored on an 11-yard run with a blocked punt, a three-yard sweep and Justin Canale's 43-yard field goal into a 15 m.p.h. head wind, then survived N.C. State's late rush in what probably was the last Liberty Bowl.

Only 8,309 showed up in 100,000-seat Philadelphia Stadium and promoter Bud Dudley indicated after the game that he'll throw in the sponge if he can't lure a top Eastern team to chilly Philadelphia in 1964.

North Carolina meets Air Force in the Gator Bowl in one of two televised classics next Saturday. The East-West Shrine game is the other. The Blue-Gray game at Montgomery, Ala., also is scheduled.

SMU and Oregon clash in the Sun Bowl at El Paso on Dec. 31. The following day it'll be

Mad Moment in College Basketball

By BOB GREEN

The mad, mad, mad, mad world of college basketball reaches its maddest moments this week with 112 teams competing in 22 separate tournaments—at least at last count—and each one of them is supposed to mean something.

Actually, they rarely do. The serious part, conference play, is still two weeks off for a majority of the nation's myriad teams, with this week's annual Christmas holiday tournaments serving as the breaking point of the season.

The madness began last week with a handful of major tournaments. The big one was in Lexington, Ky., where the home folks got downright frantic when Col. Adolph Rupp's host Kentucky lads won their own tourney with a 98-75 conquest of Wake Forest in the final game.

The victory was the seventh in a row for unbeaten Kentucky, ranked second in the nation and obviously angling for the top spot, held by defending national champion Chicago Loyola.

The champs refused to yield ground, however. Loyola, 6-0, maintained its 100-point-a-game average with two victories during the week, 112-68 over South Dakota and 91-47 over Ohio Wesleyan.

Other ranked teams remaining unbeaten included No. 3 Michigan, 6-0; No. 6 UCLA, 6-0; No. 8 Vanderbilt, 7-0, and No. 10 Davidson, 7-0.

Michigan romped over No. 5 Duke 83-67; UCLA snapped Creighton's nine-game winning string 95-79; Vanderbilt beat Louisville 91-82 and Davidson romped over East Carolina 105-77 in Saturday games.

Seventh-ranked New York University and No. 9 Toledo were not in action Saturday, but suffered midweek upsets. No. 4 Cincinnati also was idle Saturday after two victories during the week.

Princeton, unranked but sporting one of the brightest individual stars, took third in the Kentucky tourney, edging Wisconsin 90-87 in overtime. Bill Bradley, a 6-foot-5 junior, poured in 47 points.

Ranked teams in tourney action this week include UCLA vs. Yale and Michigan vs. NYU in the first round of the Los Angeles Classic; Chicago Loyola vs. Georgetown, D.C. in the first round of the Quaker City Classic in Philadelphia and Vanderbilt vs. Memphis State in the Vanderbilt Invitation at Nashville, Tenn.

Cincinnati is the only ranked team in action tonight, playing host to Kansas State. Saturday games involving the Top Ten include Kentucky vs. Notre Dame at Louisville, and Tulsa at Cincinnati.

The bulk of the interest, however, centers on the vast array of tournaments. Here's a partial line-up, with several more getting underway next week:

Thursday — Holiday Festival at New York, Big Eight at Kansas City, Los Angeles Classic, WCAC at San Francisco; Far West Classic at Portland, Ore.; Queen City at Buffalo and All-College at Oklahoma City.

San Diego Is Happy to Be in

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer

"It's like going from the outside to the penthouse."

That was the cogent comment of San Diego line coach Joe Madro after the Chargers completed an amazing flip-flop by overwhelming Denver 58-20 Sunday and clinching their third Western Division title in the four-year history of the American Football League.

And much of the credit for the turnaround must go to Paul Lowe who has juggled a hockey guard wrapped around his fractured leg 1,010 yards this season and triggered the Chargers to their final victory by gaining 184 yards and scoring two touchdowns.

Lowe was out all last season with a broken arm, and the Chargers plummeted to a 4-10 record after winning the Western crown the first two years of the league's operation. Then, against Buffalo, in the Chargers' opener this season, Lowe suffered a hairline fracture of the left leg.

"Nobody ever knew about it but me and Coach Sid Gillman," said Lowe two days ago in revealing the injury for the first time when he was named AFL Comeback Player of the Year in an Associated Press poll. "I was determined not to let it keep me out."

So Lowe wrapped a hockey guard around the battered leg, and played. He topped off his performances by piercing the Broncos line for the first Charger touchdown on an 11-yard run, then bolting 66 yards for the clincher in the third period as San Diego brought its record to 11-3.

The Chargers will meet the winner of the Eastern Division playoff between Boston and Buffalo for the AFL championship at San Diego, Jan. 5. The Patriots and Bills, idle Sunday, will settle their battle at Buffalo Saturday afternoon.

The only thing that concerned Gillman was the final game of the regular season with the outcome of the Western race hanging on the outcome. San Diego needed a tie or victory to hold off Oakland, which had closed to within one game of the leaders.

The Raiders wound up one length, finishing a 10-4 season by edging Houston 52-49 for their eighth consecutive victory. In the only other game scheduled, the Kansas City Chiefs crushed New York 48-0.

Denver gave the ball to San Diego six times on fumbles and interceptions, and the Chargers capitalized on each one—the most dramatic a 42-yard run by Chuck Allen with a fumble in the fourth period. San Diego moved ahead to stay 10-7 on a 17-yard field goal by George Blair in the first quarter, but needed Lowe's breakthrough run for a 33-17 lead that put it out of the Broncos' reach.
